

John D'Angelo, PE, CMVP

Senior Director of Facilities

Biography

August 2011

A native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, John D'Angelo received a Bachelor of Science degree in Aeronautical and Aerospace Engineering from Purdue University in December 1987 and was appointed an Ensign in the United States Navy where he served in various locations and retired in 2007. His current position with the Cleveland Clinic gives him the opportunity to further develop professionally through his responsibility over in house and out-sourced Facility Directors managing a portfolio of 203 buildings at over 23 million square-feet in fourteen Northeast Ohio counties, two Southeast Florida counties, and Las Vegas.

John D'Angelo has earned a Master of Science degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Maryland. He is a licensed Professional Mechanical Engineer in Ohio and Wisconsin, and a member of the Society of American Military Engineers, American Society of Healthcare Engineering, American College of Healthcare Executives, International Facilities Management Association and Association of Energy Engineers. He has earned his Measurement and Verification Professional certification, Chairs the U.S. DOE Hospital Energy Alliance, and participates in several local and State energy committees and working groups. He is also a board member of Friends of the Cleveland School of the Arts. John is the past President of Northern Ohio Society of Healthcare Engineering.