B. Section 1557 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, or ACA;
C. Executive Order 12250, “Coordination Regulation;”

What are the city’s primary language groups?

The city’s top-spoken foreign languages are:

1. Spanish (7.4%)
2. Arabic (0.9%)
3. Chinese [Mandarin, Cantonese] (0.7%)
4. Russian [including Slavic and Serbo-Croatian rooted languages] (0.7%)
5. Indic [Hindi, Urdu, Indo-European] (0.6%)
6. French [combined with variety of African dialogues] (0.4%)

What does this plan cover?

This plan includes a Language Access Plan Implementation section, a Language Access Policy Directives section, and a Language Access Procedures section.

The Language Access Plan Implementation section helps management and staff understand their roles and responsibilities with respect to overcoming language barriers for limited English proficient individuals. The Implementation Plan includes five phases:

Finally, the Language Access Procedures section provides the “how to” for staff. It specifies for staff the steps to follow to provide and deliver language services to limited English proficient individuals.

This plan also includes exhibits of instructional and informational materials that are essential to implementation.

Definitions

A. Interpretation: The act of listening to a communication in one language (source language) and orally converting it to another language (target language) while retaining the meaning.
   a. In-person Interpretation: Where a qualified interpreter, who is present, listens to communication in one language and orally converts it into another language (either consecutively or simultaneously) while retaining the meaning.
   b. Telephonic Interpretation: Where a qualified interpreter, who is on the phone, listens to communication in one language and orally converts it into another language (either consecutively or simultaneously) while retaining the meaning.

B. Limited English Proficient (LEP) individuals: Individuals who do not speak English as their primary language and who have a limited ability to read, write, speak, or understand English. LEP individuals may be competent in English for certain types of communications (e.g., speaking or understanding), but still LEP for other purposes (e.g., reading or writing).

C. Meaningful access: Language assistance that results in accurate, timely, and effective communication with the LEP individuals. For LEP individuals, meaningful access denotes access that is not significantly restricted, delayed, or inferior as compared to programs or activities provided to English proficient individuals.

D. Qualified Interpreter for an individual with limited English proficiency means an interpreter who via a remote interpreting service or an on-site appearance:
   a. Adheres to generally accepted interpreter ethics principles, including client confidentiality;
   b. has demonstrated proficiency in speaking and understand both spoken English and at least one other spoken language; and
   c. is able to interpret effectively, accurately, and impartially, both receptively and expressly, to and from such language(s) and English, using any necessary specialized vocabulary, terminology, and phraseology.

E. Qualified Translator means a translator who:
   a. Adheres to generally accepted translator ethics principles, including client confidentiality;
   b. have demonstrated proficiency in writing and understanding both written English and at least one other written non-English language; and
   c. is able to translate effectively, accurately, and impartially to and from such language(s) and English, using any necessary specialized vocabulary, terminology, and phraseology.

F. Translation: The replacement of written text from the source language into an equivalent written text in the target language.

G. Vital Documents: A document will be considered vital if it contains information that is critical for obtaining services and/or benefits, or is required by law. Vital documents include, for example: applications; consent and complaint forms; notices of rights; notices of disciplinary action; notices of advising LEP persons of the availability of free language assistance; rulebooks; request forms; grievance forms; health request forms; written tests that do not assess English language competency, but rather competency for a particular license, job, or skill for which English competency is not required; and letters or notices that require a response from the beneficiary or client. Non-vital information includes documents that are not critical to access such benefits and services.
